Beginning Saturday, March 25, and throughout the month, viewers can tune in for "Our America: Women on a Roll" hosted by the Emmy® Award-winning Tamron Hall, broadcast journalist host of the syndicated daytime talk show of the same name. In this Women's History Month half-hour special, which will air across the eight ABC Owned Television Stations and ABC Localish, Tamron Hall laces up her skates and explores how the sport empowers women in cities across America and continues to move our culture forward decade after decade.

From an 11-year-old "shredding" in Philadelphia to a skating rink in Texas breaking down barriers, women are riding fearlessly into sports once dominated by men. "Women on a Roll" highlights diverse women and girls who are making a difference in their neighborhoods by uplifting and defining skate culture. From feminists fighting elbow-to-elbow on a roller derby flat track to a mother-and-daughter duo reshaping their community one rink at a time, these local skate icons share their inspiring stories, impart the lessons they've learned, and demonstrate how anyone can do anything with determination and perseverance - especially when one is on eight wheels.
